

-the difference hormone between the late follicle phase and 2nd trimester of pregnancy :

a)LH

b)estrogen

c)progesterone

-correct about HCG : regulate persistence of corpus luteum

-Q about fertility period : 2 days before and 2 days after the LH surge

-HCG : control the descent of the testes in the last trimester of p

-After 17 weeks of pregnancy which of these incorrect “: all theEnzymes

-AMH decrease in F degeneration

-The cycles “soo imp”

-Progesterone for areole development

-Ejaculated semen “matha yatkwwan”

-which of the following is the source of estrogen and progesterone during the first 2 months of pregnancy?

Ovary

Placenta

Corpus luteum

. Anterior pituitary

-If we inject testosterone in the right wolffian duct in a boy fetus at the 5th week of gestation ,

we expect :

both mullerian and wolffian ducts will develop in the right side

- level of AMH reflects :

(FSH , numbers of follicles ,....)

- 12 days After LH surge :

The levels of both LH and FSH will be low

The level of progesterone will be high

The level of LH will be low and FSH will start to rise

- Differences between oocytes and sperms

(number , age at which they start to be produced , if the production continues through the whole life or not ,..)

- After menopause :

(level of estrogen , FSH and LH , ...)

- Fertility period of female